HONGKONG, JANUARY 28TR. 1895

In connection with the Military Contribution question the case of the Straits Settlements has frequently been represented as harder than that of Hongkong, inammuch as the the two rock forts which command the entrance percentage of revenue required to ment the charge is higher. There is one important fac- these cannot be attacked from the rear and if the tor in the calculation, however, that appears to Chinese choos to fight them properly Japa 'have been overlooked. In the Straits there only means of gaining possession of the averal which have been played by him are municipalities for the towns of Singapore, Penning, and Malacca, each with its separated revenue distinct from the colonial revenue. In Hongkong there is no such division, the wholerevenue, dike for municipal and general purposes, being collected by the Govern-In the Straits the e-timated revenue for 1895, enhanced by increased taxation, is $3,973,521, and the contribution of £90,000, taken at the exchange of the day, comes to about 221 per cent on that amount. But the place is now completely invested. if to the above revenue be added that of the various municipalities, which was in 1893 $1.162.862, we arrive at a total $5,596.388, on which sum the contribution amounts to about 16 per cent, only, instead revenue for 1895 is $2.079,526, and the military contribution of $10,000, taken at the exchange of 2s., amounts to 19 per cent. of that sum. As a matter of fact, therehave not been threatened with any imfrom us, and not only would any increase be inequitable, but the colony could not afford to pay it. Rightly or wrongly the Peking authorities deemed that you Hanneken was not a persona grata to the great Viceroy, and hence their attempt to made his efforte and plans quite independent of viceregal control and fluence. ### OPIUM. ITS ENORMOUS PRICE.

Opium, the duty on which forms a large sources last twelve months or so. The effect of the enin good condition, but some repairs are useded : Native States of the Malay Peninsula where the was seen towards the later part of the year 1893; and since that time the drug has been gradually rising in the market. From the prespects now permanently associated with Dr. Niles in the of opium will go far beyond $846, which is the work of the hospital among the women. Also price current to day. At the end of 1892 the that Dr. E. C. Muble be associated with Dr. the price was $580; 1893. $607, and at the close of 1894 it had gone up to as much as interest to look into the cause of this rise. As is well known the drug is manufactured principally in India. There is notwithstanding opium. It is on that ground that China figures as such a large importer of the drug from India. When China acquires the art of making good opinm, which at the present, time is confined to India, the circumstances may be eltered. But China opium is so vastly inferior that little or nothing of it is seen beyond the land of its manufacture. Of course we do not key that there may not be a little business done in it so that by judicious mixture a very profitable soure of income ther from may be obtained. There poppy have reported great failure in the crops. The Rev. H. V. Noyes presented the follow. a failure shown by the limited supply of the drug coming into the market. When the Indian Government in June, 1893, undertook to endeavour to maintain a fictitions value of the rapes, nominally stating that its gold value Though never connected with the hospital of ruling prior to the edict which brought about slightly, the main osuses of the present great the inferior quelity of the China product, it was

fact of Newshwang being extensively caltivated, with poppy; and the difficulty which overhangs Newchwang by the threat and invasion of the Japanese leads men who are cautiously watching the market to believe opinin in Chius will also Bron WATES. this year be much restricted. 'the result will be a greater import from India; and naturally the prospect has contributed to the enhanced | BEAN prior of the drug at present. But we must not forget one very important feature which has also tended in the same direction. We refer to w the speculation which has been pretty keen for the last eight or nine months, and which has already made small fortunes w. 11 194 for a few men and firms. The best classes Th. of opium produced are those known as Patna and Benures, and there is another class P. known as Malwa. Touching the last, that principally goes to Bombay and is put on the market there by the dealers or producers. For B. each obest the Government of India levies a duty of Re. 700. In Calcutta the Government sells the Patna and Benares opium.
On an average a chest of opium costs the Indian Government somewhere between Rs. 300 and Rs. 400. When the opium comes under a sells the Constant gives a sell and a sells and a sells and a sells are referred, as 3.87 feet above zero.

In Calcutta the Governaghtracted from the constant given above. the hammer, as is the invariable rule there, the upset price of each obest is Rs. 800. But that is not to say that only that price is realised. Far from it, for in the present condition of the market the price realised runs from Rs. 1,400 and over. The gain to the Indian Government may thus be estimated. The opium sales are held every month, and usually there would be 4,000 chosts to come under the ham-STATION. mer. But we are reliably informed that it is very seldom the quantity goes much beyond 3000 how. We are told that the Government of India makes something like six crores of rupees revenue from opium annually. If only 80.21 44 17 the poppy could successfully be cultivated in 30.44 44 the Straits Bettlements, what a prospect of re. Poschow . venue there is borne to viow.
